

“The Best of Pat Jackson In PR Reporter”

Public Relations professionals across the country have expressed a desire for a Pat Jackson fix.

Now, PR Publishing Company, former publisher of pr reporter, has assembled a compendium of Pat’s writing from his 26 years as pr reporter’s editor.

These are the seminal articles, theories and models written by Pat that encapsulate his vision of the profession – the strategies and tactics that leading practitioners are using today.

Organized by subject matter these articles cannot be found anywhere else. You get a working, usable document with pages easy to remove and copy.

“THE “BEST OF PAT” HAS:

- 15 subject areas (over 500 pages) of the perspectives, concepts & models Pat challenged us with in his writings and speeches. Subjects include:
 - The Role of Public Relations
 - Behavioral Public Relations
 - Total Relationship Management
 - PR Strategy & Tactics
 - Employee Relations/Organization Development
 - Issue Anticipation/Management
 - Research and Evaluation
 - Opinion Leaders and Constituency Relations
 - Media Relations
 - Communication Tactics
- A hour interview of Pat with Otto Lerbinger, Professor of Public Relations at Boston University and former publisher of pr reporter. This interview, conducted in the 90s has been transferred onto a DVD and is segmented into clips that focus on a variety of relevant topics.
- A complete section on his famous 1st of the year issues. Track his thinking and the progression of the field over 26 years.
